KAISER ADVISED THE CZAR.

German Emperor Says He Told Nicholas to Make Peace.

New York, Oct. 4.—Congressman Richard Bartholdt of St. Louis, who returned Tuesday from Europe on the Kaiser Wilhelm II. gave an account of the Brussels conference of the interparliamentary union and a visit to Berlin.

Six of the American delegation went on to Berlin after the conference and were there treated with the utmost consideration. The emperor received them in the star chamber of the old castle. Their interview was entirely informal and lasted for three-quarters of an hour. Mr. Bartholdt said:

"On our taking our leave he requested me to convey to the president his renewed expression of esteem and admiration of his successful efforts to bring about peace. I replied:

"It is generally supposed, your majesty, that you, too, did much to accomplish that happy result. To which he replied:

"It is true that I did advise the czar to make peace."

Michigan Man Fatally Shot.

Pittsburg, Oct. 4.—Milo Selter, twenty-three years old, of Benton Harbor, Mich., was fatally shot by Joseph Bain at the exposition Tuesday night. Selter bought a revolver Tuesday and called Bain to see it. Bain snapped the trigger in his examination of the gun and a bullet entered Selter's abdomen. Physicians say he cannot recover.

CHANGES TO BE MADE

CHINESE EXCLUSION LAW REGULATIONS WILL BE MATERIALLY ALTERED.

CABINET DISCUSSES SUBJECT

DECIDES THAT COMPLAINTS ARE REALLY AGAINST CONSTRUCTION OF THE LAW.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The most interesting subjects discussed at the cabinet meeting Tuesday were, first, the Chinese boycott against American goods, and second, the consideration of complaints made by the Chinese against the method of execution of the existing Chinese exclusion laws. The important fact developed was that the president's effort last summer to allay the indignation of the Chinese by a circular of instructions to the American minister to China and consular officers therein had in a measure failed of its purpose and required considerable amendment to secure the object sought. Minister Rockhill himself reported that it had not been found possible to carry out the instructions contained in the circular without doing great injustice to worthy Chinese and imposing burdens too heavy to be borne upon the American consuls.

Being freshly back from the Orient Secretary Taft took a prominent part in the discussion of this matter when it was broached by Secretary Root and presented some of the results of his observations on his recent trip. It developed that the requirement that American consuls identify those Chinese seeking certificates admitting them to American ports imposed a task upon these officials beyond their ability. The Chinese applicant frequently came from some place far distant from the American consulate and the consul was consequently compelled to refuse to identify as proper persons to be admitted to the United States many worthy Chinese, which of course led to bitter complaint and fostered the boycott feeling.

Son of a Merchant Barred.

Then a Chinese merchant who desired to send his son as a shop assistant to his branch store in the United States with a view to ultimately admitting the son to partnership found that the boy was barred on the charge that he was a coolie. Chinese living in the British, French and Portuguese Asiatic colonies, being really citizens of those nations, did not see why they should not be admitted to America under proper passports without being compelled to produce the unpopular certificates.

These were only a few of the complaints made against the administration of the existing exclusion law. The trend of the opinion in the cabinet meeting was that these complaints after all were directed against the construction placed upon the law rather than against law itself, so it was practically decided that some important changes in the regulations must be made.

Tuesday's session was the first regular meeting of the cabinet held for some months and it was one of the longest held during the administration of President Roosevelt. It was attended by all of the members of the cabinet, except Secretary Shaw, who is absent from the city, and Secretary McCall, who is ill.

Mr. Moody discussed with the president the status of the beef trust cases, which are being pressed by the department of justice.

MANY PERSONS INJURED.

Germans and Czechs Engage in Serious Rioting.

Bruenn, Austria, Oct. 4.—Fresh disturbances between the Germans and the Czechs broke out here Tuesday evening. The Czechs marched through the streets wrecking stores and insulting Germans. Almost the whole garrison had to be called out to restore order, the rioters having continued the disturbances in the suburbs after being driven from the city. Many persons were injured and some of the windows in the Jewish synagogue were smashed. Strong patrols have been placed at all the prominent German buildings for their protection during the night.

Hearst Declines Nomination.

New York, Oct. 4.—Congressman William H. Hearst, in a letter to Justice Samuel Seabury Tuesday night, declined to accept a nomination for mayor, offered by the Municipal Ownership league.

Indian Is Ineligible.

Richmond, Ind., Oct. 4.—Charles E. Shively, supreme chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, in an opinion rendered Tuesday night holds that an Indian is not eligible to membership in the Pythian order.

PASSED OFF QUIETLY.

Plenary Conference at Budapest a Tame Affair.

Budapest, Hungary, Oct. 4.—The plenary conference Tuesday of all the opposition parties, or the National assembly, as the coalition called it, passed off without any of the turbulence anticipated. The resolution approved Tuesday morning by a committee of the coalitionist members of the diet, endorsing the action of the coalition leaders after their audience of the king-emperor at Vienna, Sept. 22, was submitted to the conference and adopted by a unanimous vote.

As the Liberal deputies did not attend the conference nothing has been gained by the coalitionist cause. The prospect of the king-emperor agreeing to the use by the Fejervary cabinet of universal suffrage as a weapon to fight the coalition seems to have had the effect of moderating the tone of the coalitionist leaders at the conference, the proceedings of which were somewhat tame. It is the prevailing belief that the adoption of a platform including universal suffrage would bring to the support of the government an enormous body of peasant electors opposed to the Magyar Nationalist demands and thus place the coalitionists in a decided minority.

IN A MODIFIED FORM.

Universal Suffrage May Settle Political Crisis in Hungary.

Vienna, Oct. 4.—According to Hungarian reports the reappointment of the Fejervary cabinet empowered to carry out the election in Hungary on the basis of a modified universal suffrage is the outcome of a prolonged audience which the king-emperor granted to Premier Fejervary and his colleagues Tuesday. The premier was with his majesty four hours and a half, the time being occupied by Minister of Interior Kristoffy's explanation of his suffrage proposals. Nothing is officially known, however. It is reported that M. Kristoffy succeeded in favorably impressing the king-emperor, who withdrew his opposition to the principle of manhood suffrage, but insisted upon certain measures being taken, maintaining that "it was a question of nationalities."

GOVERNMENT VICTORIOUS.

Wins Case Against the Alleged Paper Trust.

St. Paul, Oct. 4.—The officers of the paper companies which, the United States alleges, are constituent members of the so-called paper trust, must answer the questions put to them by the attorneys for the government and produce the books and records of their companies relating to the business relations between their companies and the General Paper company.

This was the decision of Judge Van Deventer rendered Tuesday in the United States circuit court. The matter came up on the application of the government for an order directing the witnesses who had testified at the hearing before Special Examiner Robert S. Taylor and who, on the advice of their attorneys, had refused to answer certain questions, or to submit to an examination of their books and records, to answer the questions and produce their books.

An appeal will also be taken from Judge Van Deventer's order in case it is decided that the order is one from which an appeal can be taken, and a hearing on this question was set for Saturday.

Judge Van Deventer's decision is a complete victory for the government, every objection made by the defendants being overruled by the court.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Two Women Arrested for Causing Death of a Child.

Fort Scott, Kan., Oct. 4.—Mrs. Belle Riggins and her daughter, Miss Clara Shaw, are in jail here charged with murder in the first degree due to the death Tuesday of Mrs. Riggins' seven-year-old stepson. For several weeks, it is charged, Mrs. Riggins and Miss Shaw have been starving, whipping and otherwise abusing Mrs. Riggins' two stepchildren, a boy and a girl, aged seven and thirteen years, respectively. The boy died Tuesday and the girl is in a precarious condition. Testimony was brought out at the coroner's hearing that the children had taken food from swill barrels in alleys and had been horribly whipped.

SETTLEMENT SEEMS REMOTE.

No Sign of Ending of the Big Strike in Berlin.

Berlin, Oct. 4.—The electrical workers' strike shows no signs at any point of a settlement being reached. Tuesday the strike extended to two more factories and the total number of men now out is 38,000. No disturbances have occurred. Enough men have been obtained to supply a current sufficient to keep two-thirds of the street cars going.

Can't Stand Life in China.

Washington, Oct. 4.—George L. Dobson of Iowa, formerly secretary of state there, has resigned his position as consul general at Hangchow, China, after but a few weeks of work. He has written to friends here complaining of the mode of life of the Chinese, which he cannot stand.

DEED OF A LUNATIC

FORMER MINNEAPOLIS MAN FATALLY SHOTS A STRANGER IN PITTSBURG.

AFTER THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE

INSANE PRISONER ADMITS HE WAS GOING TO SEE PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

Pittsburg, Oct. 4.—Carl Oleson, aged twenty-five years, and believed to be mentally unbalanced, fatally shot Hugh Hamilton of Greensboro, Pa., Tuesday. Oleson fired four shots into Hamilton's body.

Hamilton was in a restaurant on Smithfield street when Oleson entered, took a seat on the opposite side of the table and without a word drew a revolver from his pocket and fired at Hamilton. The latter, although hit, rushed to the street, with Oleson in pursuit. Hamilton entered a jewelry store next door. Oleson followed him. There the Swede fired two more shots, both of which took effect, before he could be placed under arrest.

Several hundred people witnessed the shooting. Officers Connelly and Baker arrested Oleson.

To the police Oleson admitted that he was en route to the capitol for the purpose of seeing the president, but he would not say why he wanted to see him.

It was announced at police headquarters here by Superintendent Alexander Wallace that he is of the opinion that Oleson is the same man who tried to reach President Roosevelt Monday afternoon, Oct. 5, 1903. Superintendent Wallace thinks that Oleson is a former resident of Minneapolis, and that on the date mentioned he entered the lobby of the White House, armed with a revolver and knife. When discovered by secret service men the suspect put up a fierce fight, Officer Cissel being wounded. Investigation on Oct. 6, 1903, developed that the man was an anarchist and that he was known as Peter Elliott and Peter Oleson. He was committed to an insane asylum and escaped, being next heard of in Ohio. The Youngstown, O., police wired here Tuesday night that they believed Oleson could throw considerable light on the murder of a woman, supposed to be Oleson's wife, which occurred in Youngstown some months ago. Oleson answers the description of the man wanted by the Ohio officials. Oleson is a machinist.

NORWEGIANS WANT A KING.

People Do Not Desire Republican Form of Government.

Christiania, Oct. 4.—The attempt to create agitation in favor of a Norwegian republic is finding no support from the country. The leaders of the movement appealed for addresses for presentation to the storting in favor of a republican form of government, but so far the appeal has met with no response.

The commercial and industrial interests appear to desire no disturbance of the existing order of things. At an important meeting held here Tuesday of representatives of commercial and shipping interests it was unanimously resolved to present an address to the storting declaring that the submission of the subject of a change in the constitution to the plebiscite would greatly injure the country's economic interests.

The country, the resolution said, wanted to return to a fixed and assured situation which would only be possible by limiting the national efforts to a platform adopted by the storting June 7, the day the decision was reached to separate from Sweden, which favored the maintenance of the monarchical constitution.

An address was drawn up embodying the foregoing and in addition asking the storting to insure tranquility by the speedy election of a king. It was presented to the storting by a special committee Tuesday evening.

NO ARREST YET MADE.

Massachusetts Officials Fail to Locate Suit Case Suspect.

Boston, Oct. 4.—The expectation of the police that an arrest in connection with the Winthrop suit case mystery would be made Tuesday was not fulfilled and at night there did not appear to be any immediate prospects of an arrest.

While the Boston police do not put any faith in the value of the photograph identified as being that of one of the men carried by Timothy Howard to the Chelsea ferry on the night preceding the gruesome find the state police are working on this clue, because they want to locate the manager of a Tremont street medical office, who is known to be the man of the photograph.

STEAMER RODDAM ABANDONED.

Escaped Mont Pelee's Fire to Rot on the Siberian Coast.

London, Oct. 4.—Lloyd's have received a cablegram from the captain of the British steamer Roddam, announcing that the vessel is ashore and abandoned in the Yenesei river, East Siberia.

The Roddam was at anchor off St. Pierre with eighteen or twenty other vessels when the outbreak of Mont Pelee occurred. She was almost overwhelmed by burning lava and seventeen of her crew were killed, but Captain Freeman, her commander at that time, although horribly burned, managed to keep on the bridge of the steamer and with the assistance of the third engineer and a fireman, who were injured, succeeded in taking the Roddam to St. Lucia in a badly damaged condition, bringing the first news of the great disaster to that island.

Outsider Wins Big Purse.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 4.—The thirty-third annual meeting of the Kentucky Horse Breeders' association was brilliantly inaugurated Tuesday. The feature of the opening day was the $21,000 futurity for three-year-old trotters, which was won by Miss Adbell, a comparative outsider in the betting.

FAR FROM PROMISING.

Fever Situation on the Gulf Coast Is Serious.

New Orleans, Oct. 4.—Following is the official yellow fever report up to 6 p. m. Tuesday: New cases, 30; total cases to date, 3,972; deaths, 2; total deaths, 396; new sub-foet, 5; cases under treatment, 210; cases discharged, 2,466.

The surgeon general has ordered another of Dr. White's officers to Mississippi to help out on the gulf coast, where the situation is far from promising.

The situation in Wildwood, where eleven cases were discovered Monday, has resulted in the establishment of an emergency hospital there.

Grand Isle seems to have developed quite a nest of infection following the sporadic cases reported from there some time ago. Twenty-nine new cases on the island were reported Tuesday. The country reports are:

Patterson, 5 new cases; Kenner, 3 new cases, 1 death; Alexandria, 2 new cases; Grand Isle, 29 new cases; Terre Bonne parish, 7 new cases.

Florida Fever Cases.

Pensacola, Fla., Oct. 4.—The official summary of the yellow fever cases Tuesday is: New cases, 9; total to date, 175; deaths, 4; total, 31; cases discharged, 63; cases under treatment, 82.

WRECK EXPRESS CAR.

Bandits Hold Up Great Northern Overland East of Seattle, Wash.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 4.—The Great Northern overland train, eastbound, was held up and the baggage and express car dynamited about ten miles east of here at 8:45 p. m.

Three men are known to have done the work. Two boys who got on the blind baggage here, as soon as the holdup began, entered the passenger coaches and began holding up the passengers. They were captured. They say two of the men were on the blind baggage when they got on and the third got on at Ballard. All were well dressed, with raincoats and slouch hats.

So far as reported no one has been killed, but it is reported that Charles Anderson, express messenger, is slightly injured. Express officials say the bandits used too much dynamite, destroying both the safe and its contents. There were no valuables in the safe, it is claimed, as it is not customary for eastbound trains to carry much money.

WEALTHY MAN'S BODY FOUND.

Indications Point to Suicide of a New Yorker.

Philadelphia, Oct. 4.—The body of Peter H. Thompson, the wealthy New Yorker, who has been missing from the private sanitarium of Dr. I. P. Roberts, at Llanarch, was found Tuesday in a clump of bushes in a strip of woodland just back of Haverford, Pa., near here. In his right temple was a bullet hole and beside him was a revolver with one chamber emptied. The body was in an advanced state of decomposition.

It seems it isn't safe to rob a bank of as large a sum as $300,000, even on a bet. Ordinarily the bank does not appreciate the joke.

There is scarcely a person who has carefully thought the matter over that can blame the Czar in taking the lead in the proposed peace congress.

Gov. LAFOLLETT, of Wisconsin, has about decided to become a presidential candidate, taking it for granted that President Roosevelt will not accept the renomination under any consideration. LaFollett has made quite a stir in political circles during the past year or so and he has reached that stage of the game where he needs more room to expand. He will tour the west and if at the end of his speech making trip there is a demand for him as a candidate he will actively enter the field.

If you are interested it may pay you to examine the forfeited tax list at the county auditor's office and see whether you have neglected to pay taxes on any of your property in years gone by. The state sale of all such lands which occurs early in November gives absolute title after the time for redemption has expired. The costs attached are heavy, and in case of redemption the price the land was bid in at must be refunded no matter if it is twice the sum that the delinquent taxes amount to. A stitch in time saves nine.

AN edict has gone forth from the county attorney's office at Bemidji that in the future all gambling in that city shall be prohibited and ordering the removal of all gambling devices from saloons. Probably no town in the northwest was infested with gamblers to the extent that Bemidji was, and every saloon had as many slot machines and gambling devices as there was room for. The order of County Attorney McDonald is commended by the law abiding citizens who now claim to be in the majority in the up country metropolis.

Loss of Sleep Means Loss of Mind.

Inability to Sleep is Nature's Plain Warning of an Exhausted Nervous System.

DR. A. W. CHASE'S NERVE PILLS

When you overwork any muscle or set of muscles they tire and must have rest. What is true of muscle is doubly true of the brain, as from it emanates all power to work, to act, to think. The brain is full of little cells that during the waking hours are never quiet in their efforts to furnish to every organ the power to do its duty. Rob these little cells of their rest at night—keep them at work all the time, and soon they tire, refuse to act, fail to generate nerve force, and the system goes to ruin. Bromides, sedatives, opiates only hasten the end—they do not build up, they tear down. The true remedy, the only cure, lies in Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills, a medicine that revitalizes, reinvigorates, and by properly nourishing these overworked little cells, give them rest and quiet and enables one to sleep naturally and easily again.

Mrs. Fred Wholeben of Glade

Rur, Warren, Pa., Says:

"I was induced to use Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills for excessive nervousness. I was so nervous I could not bear a noise or much talking. I was very forgetful—my mind seemed dull. I was listless and tired all the time. The result of the use of the box I got was remarkable. They toned up the nerves and system generally and I work well again, am strong—my mind is clear and noise and talk no longer bother me. I am much pleased with the pills and can recommend them highly to anyone who feels as I did." 50 cents a box at dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., N. Y. Portrait and signature of A. W. Mellow Fall.

Comes mellow fall with misty haze,
 Scarf leaf and falling, dreamy days.
 The summer's bloom and glow are past,
 But all her fragrance still will last.
 A hint of frost is in the air,
 And rankling weeds grow everywhere.

Where limpid pool and dead flags lie
 Reflects the sunset's tinted sky.
 Waves languidly the goldenrod,
 All dry and withered is the sod.
 The meadows where bright daisies grew
 Wear mantles of a yellow hue.

The sun, blood red, sinks low to rest,
 A crimsoning the faroff west;
 The scattered flowers of somber hue
 Are gemmed at morn with heavy dew;
 The trees, 'gainst Luna's silvery light,
 Make ghostlike shadows in the night.

Sun kissed are valleys, hill and dale;
 In fields of stubble pipe the quail;
 From vine and orchard comes the spout;
 The granaries reflect man's toil.
 In yonder wood a rifle pops,
 And through the limbs a squirrel drops.

J. H. HYDE TO TESTIFY

FORMER VICE PRESIDENT OF THE EQUITABLE TO GO ON THE WITNESS STAND.

COUNSEL RAISES OBJECTIONS

CONTENDS COMMITTEE HAS NO POWER TO CONDUCT THE INVESTIGATION.

New York, Oct. 4.—Samuel Untermyer, counsel for James H. Hyde, Tuesday gave out for publication a letter addressed by him Tuesday to Charles E. Hughes of the insurance investigating committee, in which he says:

"Referring to your request that Mr. Hyde voluntarily appear as a witness before the joint committee appointed by the defunct legislature of 1905 to investigate the affairs of life insurance companies, I have advised Mr. Hyde that your committee is without power or jurisdiction to make the investigation in which you are engaged.

"You have no doubt observed that the resolution authorizing the investigation directs that the committee shall after the adjournment of the extraordinary session at which it was passed and after the body of which it is a part has ceased to exist, proceed with the investigation for the purpose of reporting 'to the next session of the legislature.'

"My opinion is based on the proposition that the assembly at least has no power to direct an investigation (1) to be held after its adjournment, and (2) for the express purpose of reporting to a future legislature not yet selected and which can have no existence until 1906.

"Either house may investigate when in session, either directly or through a committee of its members, for the purpose of informing itself as to pending or contemplated legislation by it and for that purpose only. If such an investigation may be conducted for the information of the legislature of 1906, why not for that of 1910? The question has never been before the courts so far as I can learn. If the precedent contended for can be established, it will point the way to a dangerous invasion of private rights.

"We appreciate, however, that the pending inquiry, though unauthorized and irregular, will prove wholesome and in the public interest, and that if continued on the same lines much of the responsibility for existing conditions which has been most unjustly placed upon Mr. Hyde, will be fixed where it properly belongs.

Hyde Ignorant of Conditions.

"The bulk of the subject matter of the inquiry, so far as concerns the Equitable society, relates to practices and conditions that ante-dated by many years his active connection with the society, of which he has no knowledge and which seem to have been continued under the administration with which he subsequently became identified.

"Mr. Hyde instructs me to say that he is willing to assist the inquiry by voluntarily appearing as a witness and in any other way that may be found desirable, provided his rights and those of his father's estate can be reasonably safeguarded.

"He is preparing to waive all legal objections to appearing, and to tell your committee fully and frankly everything he knows, except as to matters that are embraced in pending litigation, on condition that your committee will in common fairness accord him the right of being represented, advised and re-examined by counsel."

Charles E. Hughes gave out the following statement Tuesday night:

"I received Mr. Untermyer's letter this evening. Mr. McKen and I concur in the following statement:

"So far as Mr. Hyde's conditional offer to appear as a witness is concerned, it would not be proper for us to comment upon it in advance of the decision of the committee. We will say simply this, That if Mr. Hyde appears before the committee without conditions he will be treated courteously, fairly and according to his rights.

"Mr. Untermyer's claim that the committee is without power to conduct this investigation we believe to be without merit, and we shall so advise the committee. The insurance committee is composed of members qualified to serve and is acting within the scope of the resolutions."

City Engineer Was Instructed to Advertise for Bids to Be in
By October 16

There was a special meeting of the city council last night called for the purpose of acting on the estimate of City Engineer Woolman on the cost of macadamizing Broadway from Laurel street to Front street. The engineer furnished the estimate of the cost of curbing this street at the meeting on Monday night and it was favorably acted upon. The estimate at that time on the cost of curbing was $453.60. The estimate furnished last night for the work of paving was $918, which will make the total cost of putting the street in shape $1371.60.

City Engineer Woolman was instructed to advertise for bids for the work, such bids to be in not later than October 16.

The resolution passed at the meeting Monday night providing for a sidewalk in front of the Presbyterian parsonage was reconsidered and laid on the table. It was discovered that a sidewalk had already been laid there.

The papers in the case entitled John Wilson vs. the city of Brainerd were served yesterday afternoon on the proper officials and another chapter in the big $20,000 damage suit has been enacted. Mr. Wilson seeks to recover $20,000 for personal injuries which he claims to have sustained on account of falling from the Southeast Brainerd bridge. He claims that there was a defect in the railing on the bridge and he therefore lost his balance and fell overboard. He was in the hospital for some time after the accident happened and claims that his injuries are of a permanent nature.

Mr. Wilson has retained Attorney A. T. Larson to look after his case. With the announcement that the papers have been served there comes another announcement that a proposition has been made to make a settlement, but it is not known that this will be done.

EMILY.

Johnny Andrews made a trip to Jenkins last week.

N. T. Nelson and A. Olds were Emily visitors Saturday.

Mrs. John Andrews returned last week from a visit with relative in Corina. Freeman Doane, of Allen, who has been very sick, we are glad to state is much better.

Geo. Lambert left Sunday to spend a few days in St. Cloud with his sister, Mrs. John Phipps.

September certainly was a beautiful month this year. I don't think anyone complained of cold weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Andrews spent the greater part of last week up north in the vicinity of Bear river.

Mr. Clayton is to oversee the building of Fred Clayton's new house. Work will be commenced on it soon.

Florence Lambert, who was expected back last week, has prolonged her visit for an indefinite length of time.

Miss Vernie Wier, of Annadale, has taken charge of the Bouchite school, where she began her work Monday.

A few of May Anderson's friends gave her a surprise party last Thursday night in honor of her fourteenth birthday, an enjoyable evening was spent in playing games.

George and John Lambert and Bert Conliff are hauling logs into the mill, from which they will saw lath to finish their new houses. That shows that Emily is still growing.

A REUBEN.

ONLY ONE.

The Record in Brainerd Is a Unique One.

If the reader has a "bad back" or any kidney ill and is looking for relief and cure, better depend on the only remedy endorsed by people you know. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve quickly—cure permanently. Brainerd citizens testify to this. Here is a case of it:

James Parker, carpenter, of 124 N. E. 2nd Ave., Brainerd, Minn., says: "Every winter since I had the grippe I was unable to shake off its effects. My back commenced to pain me across the kidneys with a numb sort of aching which I felt always over the same spot, even when lying in bed. I was always troubled with headache which I think arose from my kidneys. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them. Since then I have been in much better health, have no more attacks of headache, nor more backache and I regard it as quite wonderful that any remedy could bring about such a change."

On October 18, 1904, six years after Mr. Parker made the above statement, the testimony was confirmed by Mrs. Parker, she said: "Mr. Parker's statement was true in every particular, and we both feel that Doan's Kidney Pills can be relied upon to cure every form of kidney trouble. We are always glad to advise sufferers to go to H. P. Dunn & Co.'s drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills and give them a trial."

For sale by all druggists. Price 50 cents. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

Every reader of The Dispatch should grasp the opportunity offered by H. P. Dunn & Co. to try Mi-o-na at their risk. Just one little tablet out of a 50 cent box of this remedy before each meal for a few days, and you will soon have a strong stomach and perfect health.

Ask H. P. Dunn & Co. to show you the guarantee under which they sell Mi-o-na. This valuable remedy costs you nothing unless it restores health.

RAMSEY OF THE WABASH

Fighter of George Gould's Practical Railroad.

SKILLED IN MEETING EMERGENCIES

Trying Experiences of His Early Career That Required Courage as Well as Ability—How He Risked His Life to Save Two Train Loads of Passengers—Dangerous Work at Night in icy water.

Perhaps at no point is there more real interest being taken in the present fight between President Joseph Ramsey of the Wabash and George Gould than in Pittsburgh, says a special dispatch from that city to the New York World. Aside from Pittsburgh being practically the storm center of trouble between the millionaire owner and his hounding employee, Pittsburgh was the childhood home of Ramsey. It was there he had his first troubles; there he made his first successes.

In the spring of 1868 there walked into the office of Chief Engineer Baker of the Panhandle road in Pittsburgh a callow looking youth who might just have escaped from a country school-room. Baker was busy and at the time, but he gave the visitor a minute.

"Ramsey is my name—Joe Ramsey. I live over here in Birmingham. I want a job," he said.

Birmingham is now South Pittsburgh. "What can you do?" said Baker shortly.

"I can draw things. I've been three months to mechanical school, but didn't learn much, and I want to get right into the real work."

"Do you like to draw?" asked Baker, while several well dressed clerks turned away to grin.

"Like it? You bet I do," said young Ramsey, with a feeling that won the heart of Baker.

"Report to me tomorrow morning."

And so it was thirty-seven years ago that Joseph Ramsey first entered a railroad office. The Panhandle was then worrying about a new bridge to be built over the Muskingum river at Zanesville, O., and the new boy "who liked to draw" was put to work on the plans. It was before the days of blue prints, and most of the work was in figures, and Ramsey turned out a really creditable bit of work. So good was it that when the road was ready to commence to erect the bridge Baker called the young man in and said:

"Ramsey, can you build that bridge

enraged and profane W. and W. people, who had been left high and dry for twenty-four hours by Ramsey "borrowing" a locomotive.

"I had to have an engine, and I saw yours on the track and I took it. Here it is. Much obliged. Send me the bill for one day's rent of a locomotive," said Ramsey, and he stalked away.

The road would not give Ramsey any money, and matters were so bad that the superintendent was compelled to travel on the line most of his time in order to be on hand when anything happened. His quick grasp on a situation was shown in the summer of 1881, when the only available locomotive plunged over a hill midway between Pittsburgh and Washington. Ramsey heard about it six miles away, and, borrowing a farmer's horse, rode to the wreck.

It was a bad wreck, but inside of ten minutes Ramsey had figured out just how that locomotive must be rolled up the hill by hand, as he had no other engine to assist in the work. He pulled a telegraph, a relay instrument and a pair of pole climbers out of his overcoat pockets, and, climbing a pole, cut the solitary strand of telegraph wire and, completing a circuit by attaching it to a rail, rigged up his own little telegraph office in the woods and called his office in Castle Shannon, ten miles distant. He ordered out a hand car with the necessary tackle, and in three hours more was at work hoisting the twenty-ton engine from the creek by hand. It took two days, but he did it.

On two occasions did Ramsey by his own personal efforts and at great danger to himself save the lives of trainloads of passengers. The first was in the winter of 1881, when the night train on his little narrow gauge stuck in what is known as the Mount Lebanon cut on the side of the highest hill in Allegheny county, Pa. The snow was very deep and the thermometer below zero.

There was no house nearer than a mile from the place where the train stuck, and the drifting snow would soon cover the train. There was but little coal on the small train and no hope of continuing fire through the night. There were twenty passengers on the train, including seven women. Ramsey, anticipating trouble, had come on the train himself and was riding in the cab with Jim Schooley, his engineer. He saw that it was almost suicide for the passengers to start out into the blinding snow, while it was sure death from cold to remain there all night. He told the passengers to cheer up, and, jumping from the train, disappeared in the blinding snow.

Two hours later Farmer Gulbub, a mile from the cut, heard a noise on his back porch and discovered Ramsey, well nigh frozen. The superintendent gasped that his train was stuck and the passengers would freeze. An hour later a double yoke of oxen had broken its way to the train, and the passengers, almost frozen, were taken by sled loads to the house of the farmer.

But there was no rest or meal for Ramsey. Three miles away he knew of a telephone, and through the drifts he floundered that night to call up every one in that part of the country to serve notice that if the passengers from the snow stalled train were safe. Then it was that Ramsey got time to look himself over, and he spent the next month attending a pair of badly frozen feet.

The next life saving stunt was on the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton road, to which he went after finishing with the Pittsburgh Southern. He went as chief engineer of the Cincinnati division. There had always been great loss each spring on this division because the spring floods washed away the little station houses along the river and Milk creek line. Ramsey took charge about the time the flood was due, and he did some quick work. He doubled up wrecking crews, and twenty-four hours before the flood arrived he anchored down the threatened stations with ties and old rails, making them too heavy for the water. He saved the stations.

On the night the heavy waters struck the Cincinnati division Ramsey went to the front in earnest for his people. It was certain that the train due in Cincinnati about 10 that night would be the last over the line for days—if it ever could get in. There was some fear expressed about the safety of this train. Twenty miles out of Cincinnati that night the engineer of the drier was stopped by a red block. A man in oilskins with a lantern and a chart climbed into the cab. "Go on, Joe; go like hades too. I'm Ramsey. We've got to get this train through."

Joe Bristol, the engineer, still tells about that ride. The water became deeper and deeper over the tracks hid on that dark night by the swollen river. At one point Ramsey ordered Joe to stop.

"Bad bit of road here, I'm afraid, Joe. Follow me, but don't run me down," said Ramsey as he slid out of the cab into icy water halfway up to his knees. He walked the whole way into Cincinnati, three miles, ahead of that train, wading in water often over his knees, but sounding with a stick every yard of the track before he would allow the train to come on. At midnight the train reached Cincinnati with all safe.

The next morning Ramsey reached the office late. The superintendent, not knowing that he had been out bringing in the train, fumed and fussed. When Ramsey finally arrived the boss jumped on him for not attending to business and being on hand promptly. Ramsey said he was sorry not to be on time, taking his scolding meekly. An hour later the superintendent heard of Ramsey's work the night before; also heard something else. He called for him.

"Ramsey, is it true you went out and brought that train in at midnight?"

"Yes, I brought it in."

"And is it also true that you left your wife sick to go to the help of those passengers?"

"Yes; she was pretty sick last night," said the engineer. "It's a boy. He was born while I was out in the water there. We are going to call him Jack."

The head of the road gulped down a lump and said, "Your salary is increased $500 per year. Mr. Ramsey, beginning last night."

"No. You're not supposed to pay a man extra for doing what he's paid for doing," said Ramsey.

"Well, we'll make the increase for Jack's sake, then, Ramsey," said the head of the road. And Ramsey did not fuss further.

A Most Wonderful Cure.

Joseph D. Underhill, of Doland, S. Dakota, says:—I have received great benefit from your White Wine of Tar Syrup. I had a deep seated cough and the doctors gave up all hopes of my recovery and pronounced it consumption. I tried everything that we could hear of. Finally one of my friends prevailed upon me to use your White Wine of Tar Syrup. I used 1½ bottles and am entirely cured. Such medicine I can recommend to those who were afflicted as I was.
